Retail sales performance in the state decreased from a 15.2% growth rate in May-June to a 5.5% growth rate in July-August. As can be seen in the adjacent table, the drop in retail sales growth is more pronounced in the counties of the top ten cities than in the remainder of the state. The 17.8 percent growth rate experienced by the more urban counties in May-June decreased to 5% in this reporting period. The more rural counties growth rate declined from 9.6% in the last bimonthly to 6.6% in this period.

The more rural counties outperformed their more urban neighbors for the first time since early 1982 with a 1.6 percentage point lead in this bimonthly. The superior retail sales performance in the larger communities has been either interupted or is stalled; however, one data point does not establish a trend. A few more reporting periods will be needed to determine if a balance of performance has returned or the larger communities had a poor two month period.

Minnehaha county continued to perform strongly with a bimonthly growth rate of 11.9%. The urban counties that did not experience growth in retail sales in this period were Yankton and Pennington counties which had decreases of .1% adn 2.1% respectively.

The national retail sales increased at the rate of 7.8 percent for the September-October bimonthly period. The national index of consumer sentiment for the period increased 4.3 points from 96.6 to 100.9.

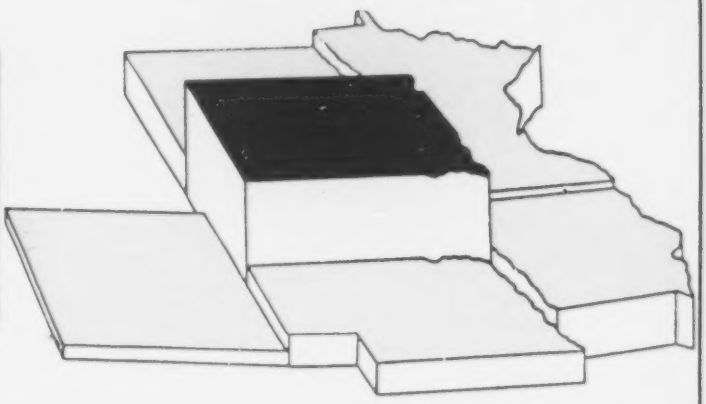
SOUTH DAKOTA
Data Supplement

January, 1985
Vol. 1, No. 6



Published by the Business Research Bureau, The University of South Dakota

* STATE'S RETAIL SALES UP 6.4% IN SEPTEMBER-OCTOBER BIMONTHLY
* COUNTIES OF TOP TEN CITIES EXPERIENCE 7.7% SALES INCREASE
* GROWTH RATE FOR COUNTIES IN THE REMAINDER OF THE STATE IS ONE-HALF THAT IN COUNTIES OF TOP TEN CITIES
* MINNEHAHA AND PENNINGTON COUNTIES' RETAIL SALES GROWTH IS STRONG

South Dakota's retail sales turned the corner and showed some improvement in performance in the September-October bi-monthly. The retail sales in the state grew at the rate of 6.4% which is a .9% increase over the last reporting period. The slight increase is attributed to the counties of the largest 10 cities whose growth rate improved from 5.0% to 7.7%. The other counties in the state experienced a growth rate of 3.5% for this period, down from 6.6% in the last bimonthly. The superior performance of the more rural counties in the state in the last bimonthly is the only such instance since the first half of 1982. That lag by the more urban communities was due mainly to a negative performance in Pennington county.

Minnehaha and Pennington counties showed continued and renewed growth. Minnehaha led the top ten with a 10.7% growth rate and Pennington followed with a growth rate of 10.4%. The county with the next highest growth rate in this group was Brown with a growth rate of over 6%. Brookings and Clay counties were very nearly flat with growth rates of .2% and .1%.

The concept of a "dual economy" in the state continues to receive support. The counties of the top ten cities have on average a greater percentage growth rate than the remaining counties in the state. However, in this bimonthly reporting period further distinction reveals an interesting fact. Separating the data into three categories, the counties of the largest two cities, the other eight counties of the top ten and the same all other grouping used in the table to the right, reveals a new similarity. Sales tax growth for Minnehaha and Pennington counties averaged 10.6%. The average growth rate for the remaining eight counties in the top ten was 3.5%. That is the same rate of growth that the "other" counties experienced. This data grouping will be monitored and commented on in future issues.

The national retail sales increased at the rate of 8.5 percent for the November-December bimonthly period. The national index of consumer sentiment for the period decreased from 100.9 in September to 95.7 in November.

SOUTH DAKOTA
Data Supplement

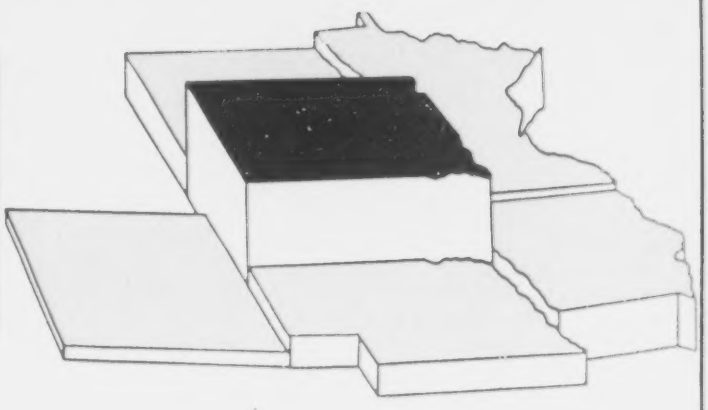
March, 1985
Vol. II, No. 1



Published by the Business Research Bureau, The University of South Dakota

* STATE'S NOV-DEC RETAIL SALES GROWTH HALF THAT OF PREVIOUS BIMONTHLY
* GROWTH RATE OF 4.6% IN THE COUNTIES OF TOP TEN CITIES
* NO GROWTH RECORDED FOR COUNTIES IN THE REMAINDER OF THE STATE

The Christmas season was not a strong growth period in South Dakota retail sales. The November-December growth rate for the state fell to 3.2%, down from the 6.4% growth rate reported in September-October. The state lagged the nation's 8.5% retail sales growth rate for the period by 5.2 percentage points.

The news at the "dual economy" level is weak and worse. The summary statistics indicate slowed growth in the counties of the largest ten cities and no growth in the remainder of the state. The counties of the largest ten cities as a group continue to experience a larger percentage growth rate than the remaining counties in the state.

The counties of the largest ten cities had an average retail sales growth rate of 4.6%, down from 7.7% last period. Minnehaha and Pennington counties dropped out of the double digit growth trend this bimonthly moving from 10.7% and 10.4% last bimonthly to 6.9% and 5.4%. The cooling turned to decay in the performance of some counties. Two counties of the larger cities experienced decreases in retail sales compared to the preceding year. Yankton had a decrease of 3.1% and Vermillion registered a .3% decline. The wet spring and subsequent loss of farm income may have been the influence that dampened the Christmas season in these counties.

In the September-October reporting period, it was found that Minnehaha and Pennington counties' growth rate averaged 10.6% while the remaining eight counties of the ten larger cities and all other counties in the state shared a growth rate of 3.5%. The "dual economy" in that period appeared confined to include the counties of the largest two cities on one hand and the remainder of the state on the other. This reporting period, the big two reported gains of 6.3% and the other eight counties of the ten had gains of 2.1%. As mentioned, the rest of the state registered no gain at all. The original hypothesis that the more urban economy is a more diversified economy and is less influenced by the depressed agricultural sector continues to receive support.

The national retail sales increased at the rate of 5 percent for the January-February bimonthly period over the preceding year. The national index of consumer sentiment for the period increased from 95.7 in November to 96.0 in January.

Vol. II, No. 2

* SOUTH DAKOTA'S BIMONTHLY RETAIL SALES FOR JANUARY-FEBRUARY BIMONTHLY HELD FIRM - NATIONAL GROWTH IN RETAIL SALES FELL 3 PERCENTAGE POINTS
* MINNEHAHA AND PENNINGTON COUNTIES' GROWTH RATE EXCEEDED THE NATIONAL AVERAGE
* RURAL COUNTIES MOVE FROM NO GROWTH IN NOVEMBER-DECEMBER BIMONTHLY TO 2% GROWTH IN THE JANUARY-FEBRUARY BIMONTHLY

Retail sales performance in the state showed slight improvement in the first two months of 1985. The growth rate for the January-February bimonthly was 3.5%, up three-tenths of a percentage point from the 3.2% growth rate recorded in the last bimonthly of 1984. South Dakota's overall performance didn't measure up to the national average of 5.5% growth for the first period of 1985, but the nation's period-to-period performance was not one of improvement. The nation's retail sales growth rate declined 3 percentage points dropping from 8.5% in November-December to 5.5% in January-February.

The counties of the largest ten cities had an average retail sales growth rate of 4.2% which is down from the 4.6% rate reported in the preceding period. Minnehaha and Pennington counties led the nation and continue to lead the counties of the top ten cities with growth rates of 6.1% and 6.4%, respectively. The number of counties in the top ten reporting decreases in period to period performance increased from 2 last bimonthly to 4 this reporting period. Beadle, Brookings, Clay and Yankton reported decreases of 1.8%, .7%, 2.7% and 1.6%, respectively.

The poor performance of the four counties listed above and the general cooling of retail sales performance in the urban centers add a new dimension to the segmentation of the South Dakota counties. The closer alignment of the more urban communities to the national economy appears to be more pronounced not only as the economy grows, but also as the economy cools. Making divisions between the top two, the next eight and all other counties, reveals that the big eight, the top ten minus Minnehaha and Pennington, didn't do as well as the remainder of the state this bimonthly. The largest of the urban counties, Minnehaha and Pennington, had a combined growth rate of 6.2%. The remaining eight counties in the top ten had an average growth rate of 1.4% which is less than the 2.0% growth rate reported for the other counties in the state.

The national retail sales increased at the rate of 5.7 percent for the March-April bimonthly period. The national index of consumer sentiment for the period decreased from 96.0 in January to 93.7 in March.

SOUTH DAKOTA
Data Supplement

July, 1985
Vol. II, No. 3

* SOUTH DAKOTA'S BIMONTHLY RETAIL SALES FOR MARCH—APRIL BIMONTHLY UP SEVEN-TENTHS OF A PERCENTAGE POINT FROM JANUARY—FEBRUARY

* GROWTH IN COUNTIES OF THE TOP TEN CITIES NEARS NATIONAL GROWTH RATE

* RURAL COUNTIES PERFORMANCE COOLS SLIGHTLY DROPPING FROM 2% IN THE LAST BIMONTHLY TO 1.6 PERCENT THIS BIMONTHLY

Retail sales performance in the state continued to show improvements during the March-April bimonthly period. This is the second period of improvement following the weak Christmas bimonthly that closed the year of 1984. South Dakota continued to lag the national growth rate this reporting period but the difference between the two narrowed from a 2 percentage point difference to 1.4 percentage points.

The counties of the largest ten cities led the state's improved growth in retail sales. As a group, these counties had a growth rate of 5.4 percent. That lags the national growth rate of 5.7 percent by only .3 of a percentage point. Hughes county was the leading gainer of the top ten with a growth rate of 11 percent over the same period in the preceding year. Pennington county followed Hughes with a growth rate of 8.1 percent and Minnehaha was third at 7 percent. Codington and Clay counties had worsened positions relative to last year with decreases of 2.1 and 5.2 percent, respectively.

Separating the data into three groupings; the top two, the next eight and all other counties, reveals that this bimonthly size was a factor. The top two had a growth rate well above the nation's at 7.4 percent. The next eight had a growth rate of 2.4 percent which was .8 of a percentage point about the rural county growth rate of 1.6 percent.

The national retail sales increased at the rate of 5.1 percent for the May-June bimonthly period. The national index of consumer sentiment for the period decreased from 93.7 in March to 91.8 in May. The index has been steady to decreasing throughout 1985.

★SOUTH DAKOTA'S BIMONTHLY RETAIL SALES PERFORMANCE FOR MAY-JUNE BIMONTHLY WEAK BUT THE PERCENTAGE CHANGE IS MISLEADING

★GROWTH IN TWO LARGEST COUNTIES, MINNEHAHA AND PENNINGTON, IS POSITIVE

★NEXT EIGHT COUNTIES AND RURAL COUNTIES PERFORMANCE NEGATIVE RELATIVE TO SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR

Retail sales performance in the May-June bimonthly reporting period appears weak. The state as a whole experienced growth of only 1.3 percent with negative county growth rates for the period being common. However, it is important to note that the lack luster performance is overstated in the year to year statistics. Extraordinary performance in the same bimonthly period in 1984 tempered this year's bimonthly sales tax performance. May-June had an outstanding growth rate of 15.2 percent in 1984.

The strength in the top ten counties was in Pennington with an overall growth rate of 7.1 percent. Minnehaha had a growth rate of less than one-half that of Pennington at 3.4 percent. Pennington showed strength in the retail sectors of building materials, automobile service stations, eating and drinking, lodging services, and legal services. Pennington county showed relatively more strength in general in the sale of tangible personal property than did Minnehaha or the state as a whole. At first glance, the building materials sector stands out as a major discriminating factor. Minnehaha experienced a net loss of .7 percent in that sector while Pennington grew at the rate of 12.2 percent. The building materials sector can serve as a barometer of a few other sectors such as furniture and real estate services when the construction is residential. The fact that Pennington is lagging Minnehaha in furniture sales suggests that the construction out west is commercial - possibly that at the airbase.

The next eight counties of the top ten, the top ten less Pennington and Minnehaha, show the least strength in the building materials area with a decrease of 8.6 percent. The counties other than the top ten experienced a decrease of 4.9 percent in that sector. The apparent weakness in construction as indicated by the sale of building materials shows an impact in other areas as well. Furniture sales and sales receipts on real estate services are both off last year's mark for the next eight counties.

The national retail sales increased at the rate of 7.3 percent for the July-August bimonthly period. However, it is reported that most of the increase is attributable to automobile sales and that less than one percent is the growth rate of the other components. The national index of consumer sentiment for the period increased from 91.8 in May to 94.0 in August.
